Donaldson Cave Preserve Sign

By Bob Bennett NSS21847

On Saturday, June 5th, Paulette & I met Tom and his son Mason at the Donaldson Cave Preserve property at 10:30am to do a much-needed repair on the existing preserve kiosk. Previously Tom had gone by the property to remove the roof of the kiosk to rebuild it. Between the weather and the wind at least 2 of the roofing boards had blown off.

Once we were there, Tom started his generator, and the remodeling began. Wow, the cicadas were everywhere!

First, we started removing the 3 containers that were used to keep pamphlets in. Then the lag screws holding the sign boards were next. True to what was expected, all but 2 broke off from age. Each board was then removed.

The WVCC created a brand-new green and white cave preserve metal sign to attach to the kiosk.

With the new metal covered roof now on, we started installing the new boards. We had to use a reciprocating saw to remove the remains of the old lag screws.

Of course, except for all but two, we had to drill all new holes as close as we could get them to the old holes for the lag screws. Then Tom started screwing in the new lags. My trusty Dewalt battery powered drill was up to the task for the drilling and the installing of the lags. I had a 5-amp hr battery and it held up just fine!

We then cut the slots longer and inserted 2 more boards to the kiosk. Tom then went back on Sunday and repainted the lettering on the boards. Below is the finished product!

Baker Quarry Kayak Trip Report: May 22, 2021

I hosted a small kayak trip to Baker Quarry on Saturday, May 22nd. There was a total of 11 kayakers throughout the day starting around 10:30 AM – 3:30 PM. Water level was low but still maneuverable with our kayaks, and the walking area floor was dry (no mud). We cleaned up old-discarded beer & soda bottles and cans, and other miscellaneous trash in the 3-lakes and walking areas. There was also a cool rock 'cairn' sculpture (a cairn is a man-made pile of stones), see photo.

Tom and Red provided additional steel welding & reinforcing to the upper gate before both kayaking later that day. I would like to thank Tom and Red for your efforts and time regarding the continuous gating needs at this quarry over the years.

Note: A few weeks prior to the kayak trip, Tom Griffin and I replaced the old & rusted lock with a new water-resistant lock on at the lower gate, then added & repaired a steel member on the gate and reinforced other areas.

Announcement: We are in the process of coordinating a “2021 Baker Quarry 3rd Annual Kayak Trip” for August 28th, one week before Labor Day Weekend. Look for more information coming soon. (Photos by Brent Jefferson)

TSG Meeting, MAY 12, 2021

John called the meeting to order at 7:00 pm. The meeting was held online.

Elysia read the treasurer's report, and it was approved.

Bob read the minutes, and they were approved.

Old Business

A motion was made, seconded, and passed to purchase a new domain in the name of Tri-State Grotto.org for $12.

Adam Stephen Day is cancelled this year due to not enough volunteer help because of Covid.

Jeff reported that DNR did get some places to put the cave protection signs and will get signs to us.

Tom is interested in getting a bat detector to put inside the gate at Molers to see if bats are using the cave. Jeff gave contact names of some DNR people who may be of help.

Bob said that Keith is ok with digging on the Adam Stephen property, but it is on hold until he is able to be there when that goes on, which is a requirement by the association.

Tom reported that Roger, the caretaker of Molers Cave, is very grateful for all the work that TSG has done there.

New Business

Bob brought up about having in-person meetings again and possibly have a camera so others who don't live near can see the meeting. He will check Keith for permission to use wifi, and also test out a laptop there to see if the signal is strong enough.

Trips

This coming weekend May 15 at 10 AM TSG is going to be putting new gravel down on Crystal Grottoes passages.

Elysia asked about the Endless trip. Tom said Mike is ok with Sundays or Wednesdays, but he would like to go if it is on a Wednesday.

John went with a group to Black-Coffey Cave May 10.

Tom said that there is a Franklin County Grotto conservation trip to Black-Coffey Cave on Oct 10, 10 AM-5 PM to remove old wiring. The junction boxes and light fixtures are to be left in place. The wiring will be recycled, and the money will be used for lights and helmets. They will also be applying for a grant. TSG will be invited to participate in this project.

Tom also reported that there is another Sarah Furnace survey trip on May 30. It is now the second longest cave in PA, and is ½ mile away from being the longest cave in PA.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:00 PM.

Respectfully Submitted,

to Marion's consternation, Corey did his thing and squeezed into a crawl near the top of the rope and found about 300' of virgin cave.

This was Friday mornings activity.

TRIP LOG

A BEDTIME STORY

Once upon a time, actually only a few weeks ago, in a Land not so far away, three brave and noble cavers set out upon a quest. Their names were Dumb, Dumber, and Dumbest. By the way, Dumb, Dumber, and Dumbest were married to Smart, Smarter, and Smartest, but not necessarily in that order. But I am getting ahead of the story.

It all began early in the week when Dumb, or maybe it was Dumbest called Dumber, or maybe it was Dumb (It is very hard to keep these Dummies straight). Anyway Dumb told Dumber that he was going to go kayaking down Sleepy Creek and Dumber and Dumbest should go with him in their canoe. Maybe it was Dumbest who called Dumb and Dumber (Remember I told you it was hard to keep them straight). Anyway Dumber said "Boy! You would really have to be dumb to go down a river in February, but he would tell Dumbest". Friday arrived and the weather forecast looked good for Saturday. The Dummies decided to do it.

Saturday dawned cold, foggy, and cloudy. Dumber and Dumbest called Dumb to discuss canceling the trip. NO WAY! Dumb assured Dumber and Dumbest the weather would change. The trip was on. Smart, Smarter, and Smartest, not necessarily in that order told Dumb, Dumber, and Dumbest, not necessarily in that order that they were really dumb.

Dumb, Dumber, and Dumbest loaded their vehicles and headed for fast water. The plan was to leave one car at the takeout point, then drive to the put in point. This was a very long drive. They didn't want to check the map to see how far and where they were going to go because they didn't want to look dumb. Well, they arrived at the put in point and unloaded, then they started to get dressed in shorty wet suits.

Dumber and Dumbest discovered they only had one wetsuit between them. Dumb said they would drive back to his house and borrow one of the Smarty's wetsuit. The Smarty only said, "dumb".

Back to the Creek and away they went. Less than one hundred feet from the put in point the river turned left and disappeared. The Kayak Dummy was in the lead. He turned left and disappeared. Seems that there was a little waterfall that was a little bigger than little. Very exciting, but he made it. He decided to wait for the canoe, there was no way to warn the Canoe Dummies. The Kayak Dummy saw the Canoe Dummies appear at the top of the falls. The Canoe Dummies' eyes got very big. They started down. The bow of the

DEAD DOG DISPATCH

V.#15

I.#3

MAR

2000

canoe entered the water at the base of the falls. Now if the bow of the canoe would come up out of the water, they would be ok. The bow of the canoe continued down. Water came up to Bow Dummy's neck. Stern Dummy was now setting up in the air. Gravity kicked in. Stern Dummy fell in. Bow Dummy rolled in. Much kicking and flailing. Stern Dummy's mouth was moving, but no sound. They finally got the canoe to the side of the base of the falls and got out of the water. Meanwhile Kayak Dummy was catching loose floating objects. Only one item was missing. Kayak Dummy would paddle up to the base of the falls to look for the missing item. Nothing there. As Kayak Dummy turned into the base of the falls, he clearly saw the hole at the base. This is called a hydraulic. Kayak Dummy entered the hydraulic sideways. Kayak Dummy went into a spin cycle. The Canoe Dummies found great entertainment in watching this. Kayak Dummy tried to stop to no avail. Kayak Dummy pulled his skirt and bailed out. The Canoe Dummies said, "Do it again". Kayak Dummy said, "* , I'm not that dumb".

Now that everyone was very wet and cold, the three Dummies decided to continue on. If they paddled hard enough, they would get warm. A breeze started to blow. A few miles later the call of Mother Nature forced them to pull in. Removing lifejackets and wetsuits exposed bare skin to the elements. The temperature was dropping. The Dummies decided to continue on. Trees across the river, no problem, go over them. They were dumb, but tough. Well they paddled and they paddled and they paddled some more, with the end nowhere in site. They needed a break. Kayak Dummy pulled into shore. He got out and fell into the water. It was cold. The Canoe Dummies pulled in. After a brief discussion, it was decided to continue on. Stern Dummy got in. Bow Dummy lifted the canoe to push out. The only problem was he lifted just a little too high. Stern Dummy went swimming. He got cold. After a brief discussion they decided to continue on. Well they paddled and they paddled and they paddled some more. It was late afternoon and getting towards twilight. They finally reached the halfway point. After a brief discussion they decided to quit. The only problem was no car at the halfway point. Kayak Dummy decided to hitchhike back into Town. There he stood by the highway in the fog and twilight dressed in wetsuit and bright orange toboggan, soaking wet hoping for a ride. God likes Dummies so he sent some drunks to the rescue. Never say "no" to a Godsend. Kayak Dummy got back to Town and got a pickup to go back for the others. It was well after dark when the Dummies got all the vehicles and gear back home. The Smart wives had long since eaten.

The only thing to do was for the Dummies to go out for an outstanding Bar-B-Que Rib Dinner. Now who was the Dummy?

Post Script: There is a rumor that after the outstanding dinner, Dumber or maybe Dumb said to Dumbest or maybe Dumber, "If Dumb ever asks us to go with him in February again please kick my dumb ass".
